1. Industrially, the Rumanian Government has launched all-out preparations for war, beginning October 1950, but "cannot possibly" support any aggressive military action throughout the Balkan area before the middle of 1952.
2. The prime indications of the above-mentioned war preparations are as follows:
  - a. Assumption by the Soviet military and civilian officials of all the key Rumanian economic and militarily strategic posts;
  - b. Widespread food shortages in Rumania's normally most productive areas;
  - c. Gearing of Rumanian heavy industry to the production of war materiel on a self-supporting basis.
3. Reportedly, the Rumanian Government will order the arrest early this summer (1951) of Premier Petru Groza.
